

Mardi Obray, known for her high-energy, hilarious, and motivational presentations, has a background as an entrepreneur, business consultant, and gymnastics/tumbling coach. She started her career as a coach at 23 with only 30 students. Since then, she has built two children's sports & education centers from the ground up and oversees more than 50 employees and 1,400 students.

She has participated in numerous television appearances as a consultant on children's health & fitness and has been instrumental in establishing a children's health/fitness coalition in her community. Mardi's expertise in delivering entertaining, industry-specific keynote addresses or breakout sessions offers businesses an opportunity to learn about and apply real ideas to their trade.

Her varied background means she easily identifies with and can give insight to the challenges faced today in the business arena of children's centers.
